

By the King.

A Proclamation for restraint of killing, dressing, and eating of Flesh in Lent, or on Fish dayes, appointed by the Law, to bee heereafter strictly obserued by all sorts of people.

Wheras, for the benefit & commodity of this Our Realme of England, as well in the maintenance of Our Navie and Shipping (a principall strength of this Iland) as for the sparing and increase of Flesh viciuall, divers good Lawes and Statutes haue beene prouided, for the due obseruation of Lent, and other dayes appoynted for Fish dayes, which from time to time haue beene seconded and quickened by sundry Our Proclamations, and other Actes and Ordinances of State: And whereas, notwithstanding the many good prouisions heretofore had and made in that kind, we yet find the inordinate liberty now vsually taken by all sorts of people, to kill, dresse, and eat Flesh in the Lent season, and on other dayes and times prohibited by Law, is become an euill of such inueterate growth, as it requireth more then ordinary care to suppresse the same:

We therefore much affecting the Reformation of this so great an euill (and enemie to the plenty of Our Kingdomes) haue thought fit eftsoones (and that thus timely, the better to take away the excuse, and to prevent the prouisions of Flesh that vsually men make against the Lent season) To expresse Our selfe and Our Royall Commandement in this behalfe: Wherein without any future declaration of Our pleasure in this kinde, we shall expect and require from all Our Subiects, that due notice be taken, and that a strict and continued obedience and conformity bee yeelded thereunto in all succeeding times.

And therefore we do straitly Charge and Command all and every person and persons whatsoever, to whom it may appertaine, carefully to prouide and see, that these Orders following may bee duely obserued and put in execution, vpon paine of Our high displeasure, and such penalties as by the Lawes of this Our Realme may bee inflicted vpon the Offenders for their contempt or neglect of Us and Our Lawes, whereof we shall shew Our selues most sensible.

And first, wheras we finde that the chiefe cause of these disorders hath growen from the Licences that haue bin granted to Butchers to kill and biter flesh contrary to Law, and that by Our Lawes no Mayor, Justice of Peace, or other person, of what degree or qualitie soever, can grant any Licence in this kind, and that the Lords and others of Our Privie Councell, doe by our direction forbear to grant the same, or to give way thereto; Our will and pleasure is, vpon the penalties prouided by Law, and such further punishment to be inflicted vpon the Offenders, as shall be thought meet, that no such Licence shall be granted for the killing or biting of Flesh, And that no Butcher or other person whatsoever, doe by colour thereof, kill, biter, or put to sale, any flesh contrary to the Lawes established and prouided in that behalfe.

And for the avoyding of such inconveniences heereafter, Our will and pleasure is, That the Lord Mayor of Our City of London, and every other Officer and Justice of Peace, shall call before them, & send for any of the seruants of any Inholders, Victuallers, Cookes, Alehousekeepers, Tauerners, and keepers of Ordinary Tables, and such others that biter Victuallers, and to examine them vpon their corporall Oathes, what Flesh is, or hath beene during the Lent season, or other dates prohibited by the Law, dressed, killed, bited, or eaten in their houses, which if they shall refuse to doe, then to commit to prison the sayd seruants so refusing vpon their Oathes to declare the truthe.

That the Lord Maior shall also yearely before Lent, or at the beginning thereof, cause all Inholders, Keepers of Ordinary Tables, Victuallers, Alehousekeepers, and Lauerners within the City and Liberties thereof, to appeare before him, or such person as hee shall appoint meete for that purpose; And shall take Recognizances with sufficient Sureties of every of them in good summes of money (viz.) one hundred pounds of the Principall, and their Sureties thirtie pounds apiece, to our vse, not to dresse any Flesh in their houses in the Lent time, or at any other times prohibited for any respect, nor suffer it to be eaten contrary to the Law. The like Recognition with Sureties, shalbe taken of the like parties vpon like penalties, by the Justices of Peace of Our City of Westminster, and the Liberties thereof. And every of the sayd Recognizances to be certified into Our Exchequer.

And for the Butchers and others that come with victuall of Flesh out of the Countrey to the City, Our pleasure is, That the Lord Maior shall cause certaine persons to watch at the Gates and other like places in the Suburbes, where Flesh may be brought, to view and search, and to intercept the same: and if any of those watchmen shall be found negligent and corrupt in his Charge, then hee to be committed to prison during the whole Lent.

And to the end that Fishermen may employ themselues to Sea with better encouragement then heeretofore, and that the Fishmongers may furnish themselues with such store from time to time heereasier, as shalbe expedient, as well for the provision of the City, as for selling the same at reasonable Rates; Wee will that they take notice of this Our Commandement and constant resolution for the obseruance of Lent, and fish dayes, both now and heereafter, as by Law is required.

And furthermore, as wee thinke it fit that every man should be a rule of order and abstinence in his owne house, as well in respect of the publique, as of his private ease and benefit, So wee straightly charge and command all Inholders, Keepers of Ordinary tables, Victuallers, Alehousekeepers, & Lauerners not to make any Supper for any person or persons whatsoeuer upon Friday nights, either in Lent or out of Lent; nor to suffer any meat to be then dressed, bastered, sold or eaten in their houses, vpon paine of such punishment as is due to those that shall contemne Our Royall pleasure and Commandement.

And forasmuch as vpon further aduise and consideration had, that the restraint of killing and dresing of Flesh is no sufficient remedy for the mischiefe, vnlesse there bee better care taken also to supprese the unlawfull and mordinate eating of flesh in the time of Lent, and on other dayes and times prohibited, wherewith Our Subiects haue accustomed themselves rather for delicacy then for necessity: It is therefore Our Royall will and pleasure, and accordingly wee doe heereby straightly prohibite and forbide all Our Subiects of what degree or quality soever within this Our Realme, to eat any manner of flesh in the time of Lent, or on other daies now vsually obserued as Fish-dayes, without a speciall Licence first obtained from the Bishop of the Diocesse, or such other as by the Law haue power to giue Licence in that behalfe, (which wee will and command shall bee sparingly granted, and in cases of necessity onely) vpon paine of Our high displeasure, and to bee proceeded against by Our Attorney Generall in Our Court of Starre Chamber, as contemners of Our Royall Commandement, and vpon such further penalty as by the Lawes and Statutes of Our Realme may be inflicted on those as shall wilfully offend in this kinde.

And as these Orders are to be executed in the City of London, and places neere to the same, So is Our expresse Pleasure and Commandement, That Our Justices of Peace in all Shires within their Rule, and all other Maiors, Bayliffes, and chiefe Officers in Townes corporate, or in any Liberties within their Precincts, shall cause the same to be obserued and performed in like manner; and that no manner of Toleration, Fauour, or Countrey be vsed by any Justice of Peace, or other Officer, contrary to the true meaning of this Our Proclamation, as both they that shall presume wilfully so to tolerate the offence, as also the party himselfe offending, will answer the same at their vttermost perils: Our Commandement being, That Our Lawes in this case shall be heereafter severely executed upon all offenders whatsoeuer.

Further charging and commanding the Lord Maior of Our City of London, the Justices of Alzie in their severall Circuits, the Maiors and chiefe Officers of all other Cities and Townes corporate, Justices of Peace, Lords of Liberties, and all other Officers and Ministers within the severall Counties of this Our Realme, That they and every of them fully obey this Our pleasure, and cause and compell the same to be obeyed and executed by others, as they will answe the contrary at their vttermost perils.

And for the due execution of the premisses in all other the Counties of this Our Realme, aswell as in Our Cities of London and Westminster, Wee doe hereby straightly Charge and Command all Our Justices of Peace within the same Counties, aswell within Liberties as Without, That yeerely and every yeere heereafter before Lent, they cause to come and appeare before them all Inholders, Cookes, Lauerners, Alehousekeepers, Butchers, and other Victuallers whasoever, and to require and take of them to our vse, severall Recognizances, with Sureties, for obseruation of the premisses, (viz.) The principals in ten pounds, and their two Sureties in five pounds apiece: And if they shall refuse or neglect to enter into such Recognizances, That then the sayd Justices shall suppress such persons so refusing, from Victualling any more, and shall also cause them forthwith to become bound by Recognizance with Sureties to our vse, (viz.) The principals in twenty pounds, and their two Sureties in ten pounds apiece, not to Victuall or sell Beere or Ale from thenceforth; which if they shall refuse to doe, then the sayd Justices to commit to prison all such persons so refusing to enter into such Recognizance, vntill they shall submit themselves, and become bound, as aforesaid. And further for all such Inholders, Cookes, Lauerners, Alehousekeepers, Butchers, and other Victuallers as shall not appeare before the sayd Justices, as aforesaid. That they immedately send forth their warrants, or grant Processe against them and every of them so making default, to appeare and answer their contencipt at the next generall Sessions of the Peace.

And further for the more due punishment of Inholders, Keepers of ordinary Tables, Cookes, Butchers, Victuallers, Alehousekeepers, Lauerners, and such like, Who shall forfeit their Recognizances by killing or dressing of flesh, or suffering it to be eaten in their houses in the Lent time, and other fish daves: And to the end that the same may be as well taken in due forme of Law, as duely certified into our Exchequer, we doe will and require all Justices of Peace, aswell within Liberties as without, That at such times as they shall meet within their severall Divisions, for the taking of such Recognizances, that they gine notice to the Clerkes of the Peace, or their Deputies, to attend them for that purpose, Of whom wee will require a strict Accompt for the Legall taking and returning of the same Recognizances into our sayd Exchequer: The sayd Clerkes of the Peace and their Deputies, taking for the making and certifying of the same Recognizances of all Inne keepers, Lauerners, Cooks and Butchers, the Fee of two shillings six pence; And of all Alehousekeepers the Fee of twelve pence; as limited to be taken by the Clerke of the Peace for our County of Middlesex for every such Recognizance, and no more.

And lastly, for that the Fishmongers (vpon the obseruation of the aforesayd Orders) may perhaps take occasion thereby to enhance the prices, aswell of fresh as of Sea fish; wee doe therefore hereby further charge and command all Fishmongers whasoever, That they sell and bittir their Fish at moderate and vsuall Rates and prices: And that all Justices of Peace, Maiors, Bailiffes, and other our Officers as well within Liberties as without, to whom it shall appertaine, shall from time to time take such order with the sayd Fishmongers, that our Subjects bee not grieved by any such enhancement or encrease of prices vpon fish, vpon paine of our high displeasure, and such further punishment as may be inflicted vpon them by our Lawes.

Giuen at Whitehall the thirtieh day of Januari, in the twentieth yeere of Our Reigne of Great Britaine, France and Ireland.

God sauе the King.
